Quad Release Connectors

The Single-Handed Connector by Climbing Sutra

Climbing Sutra's answer to the locking carabiner. We utilize four separate release triggers for unrivalled security in a cable connector. Climbing Sutra's Quad Release Connectors will not release while under load adding a secondary layer of protection. Used for single wire flying or safety

Two separate male connector designs offer numerous termination possibilities. The Industrial Male connector provides universal capabilities for carabiners and shackles. And the Cable Male connector with a built-in thimble is designed to be used with lines up to 1/4" dia.

Can be used in place of our standard low profile buckle to provide quick release capabilities.
